Séverine Beaudet

Séverine specialises in international arbitration, focusing her practice in the management and administration of arbitration proceedings.

Séverine spent more than eight years as an associate with the law firm of Prof. Bernardo Cremades, assisting tribunals in international commercial arbitrations, particularly in cases in the infrastructure sector. Séverine also has experience in investment treaty arbitration under the ICSID Convention and in ad hoc proceedings under the UNCITRAL Rules.

Currently, Séverine combines her practice as administrative secretary with her position as Legal Analyst for Investor-State LawGuide, analysing arbitral decisions and awards rendered in investment arbitrations. Séverine is also a member of Peerpoint, a panel of consultants of an international firm headquartered in London.

In addition to her native French language, Séverine speaks fluent English and Spanish.

Séverine obtained her Law Degree from Université Panthéon-Assas Paris II and its homologation to Licenciatura de Derecho at University Carlos III in Madrid.

Séverine is admitted to practice law in Madrid.
